TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Marines Were Also Being Landed From Italian and Dutch Warships at Same Place.

Cape Haytien, Nov. 23.—A Santo Domingo despatch states that an armistice of 56 hours is being observed there. Marines are being landed from the United States gunboat, Newport, and Italian and Dutch warships. The landing of American marines is probably due to the fact that the American legation at Santo Domingo was damaged during the recent shelling of the city by the insurgents.

Scott and five privates were slightly wounded. None was killed. There are indications of extensive uprisings. In any case there is no difficulty in handling the situation.

FOUL PLAY CHARGED.

Colorado Disaster Said to Have Been Planned in Ingenious Manner.

Cripple Creek, Colo., Nov. 23.—Charles McCormack, superintendent, and Melvin D. Beck, a miner, were killed by an explosion in the Vindicator mine. Officers of the Vindicator Mining company assert that the explosion was caused by an infernal machine, and 400 militiamen have been placed on guard around the company's properties.

Superintendent McCormack and Miner Beck were descending into the mine in the cage. They were the only passengers. When the cage reached the sixth level the explosion occurred, wrecking the cage and shaft and instantly killing both men. The explosion, which was terrific, was heard at the surface and at first was believed to be an earthquake. The engineer hastily reversed the hoist, but could not pull up the cage, and the bodies were recovered only after several hours' work, being brought to the surface through the second compartment of the shaft.

After a thorough examination of the shaft it is positively asserted by officers of the mining company that the explosion was caused by an infernal machine. They assert that the infernal machine, containing many pounds of dynamite, had been placed in the sixth level, which is part of the abandoned workings of the mine, within a few inches of the shaft. Then a loaded revolver was fixed in the shaft with its muzzle pointing directly toward the infernal machine. To the trigger of the revolver was attached a string, which was thrown across the shaft in such a manner that the revolver would explode, the bullet striking the infernal machine. Pieces of this revolver have been recovered from the bottom of the shaft, but not a vestige of the infernal machine can be found.

HARVARD DEFEATED IN EXCITING GAME

Yale's Foot Ball Players Took Advantage of Opportunities and Won 16 to 0.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 23.—In a foot ball game that was full of excitement and which kept 38,000 people at a fever pitch of enthusiasm Harvard went down to defeat before Yale yesterday afternoon by a score of 16 to 0. Harvard surprised her supporters and the opposing team by her vast improvement.

The Crimson gained more ground by rushing than did Yale, and at one time had the ball within a foot of a touchdown. But Yale's defense stiffened at this point and Harvard had to give up the ball on downs. It is noteworthy that not once during the past season has the Yale goal line been crossed by straight rushing. It was a game of lost opportunities for Harvard, while Yale made the most of her two touchdowns being gained by the medium of blocked kicks.

Harvard was sadly outplayed by Mitchell of Yale who gave a brilliant demonstration of that part of the game. Kinney scored the first touchdown for the Blue in the first half, but Mitchell failed to kick a goal. In the second half the mighty Hogan made two touchdowns for Yale, once blocking one of LeMoynes' kicks and failing on the ball back of the goal line, and again crossing the line after straight rushing.

MASON A. GREEN ON A TOUR.

Editor of Rutland Herald Inspecting Working of License Law.

White River Junction, Nov. 21.—The presence in town of Mason A. Green, editor of the Rutland Herald, has kept local politicians busy this week guessing the purpose of his visit. Most of them connected it with the prospective candidacy of Percival W. Clement for the governorship. Mr. Green, who has visited other towns in Windsor county during the week, was here again Friday on his way to Windham county. He informed a reporter that he was making a tour through several counties on the east side to ascertain the practical working of the local option high license law in this section of the state, particularly in towns in which license prevails, and disclaimed any political motive in visiting towns. He will take in Caledonia county after his visit to Windham county is finished, unless he changes his plans.

TURKEYS SELLING HIGH.

Prevailing Price in Burlington is 25 Cents a Pound.

Burlington, Nov. 23.—Vermont turkey dealers and Vermont eaters will have to be a little shy on this bird for Thanksgiving as immense shipments have been sent to Boston and New York markets where a higher price is paid. The ruling price for the average turkey in Burlington today is 25 cents a pound, several cents more than was paid last season and the top notch for a long time in this section of the state at least. This, of course, has a tendency to make other fowl higher and good chickens bring 15 to 18 cents. The Western bird is being shipped into Vermont to supply the demand and as a rule are much larger than those raised in Vermont. Boston, however, wants the Vermont turkey and most have them at any price.

IS SHORT OVER $5000.

Vermont State Hospital for Insane Expects Its Appropriation.

Waterbury, Nov. 23.—The state hospital for the insane at Waterbury is over $5000 short in meeting its November bills. The appropriation of $100,000 for the year ending Dec. 1 has been exhausted and no more money can be drawn from the state treasury until Dec. 1 when the second year's appropriation becomes available.

More patients are being cared for at the institution than were figured on in the appropriation, hence the shortage.

Yachting Circles.

ONE YACHTSMAN DENIES IT

Report Says That Three Boats Will Be Built and Tried Out For the Challenger.

Glasgow, Nov. 23.—The Glasgow Herald, always thoroughly reliable, today states that a syndicate of Clyde yachtsmen will challenge for America's cup in 1905. No details are arranged yet but the suggestion has been favorably received that Messrs. Clark, Coats and Donaldson, heads of the syndicate, will build three yachts, designed by Fife, Watson and Milne, and that these yachts will race against each other during the summer. The best of the three, should the suggestion be adopted, will be the challenger.

Peter Donaldson, a yachtsman, says that as far as he is concerned there is no truth in the Herald's statement and he discredits the whole story.

Sanderson of Highgate up to August last was the proprietor of the Maplewood creamery at Highgate, which after doing a large and flourishing business, failed and 70 or more farmers were beat out of about $9,000. Sanderson was this past week petitioned into bankruptcy by A. D. Horskin, Chas. M. Gates, George Eyerson and W. L. Tittemore of Franklin and C. C. Sheldon of Highgate. The petitioners claim that Mr. Sanderson, while insolvent, attempted to defraud and beat his creditors by giving to J. H. Sanderson, his father, an order on J. H. White & Sons of Boston for $1,945.20, which order was honored and paid over to the older Sanderson. It is also claimed by the petitioners that certain property was conveyed for the benefit of certain preferred creditors.

WAS NOT SEEN
BY E. A. BRODIEClue of Missing Rutland
Man Run Down.

MYSTERY DEEP AS EVER

Burlington Man Who It Was Claimed
Saw Kinsley, Denies the Whole Thing.

Burlington, Nov. 23.—E. A. Brodie, who arrived from New York this morning, denies the story published this morning that he helped the missing H. B. Kinsley off the train at Rutland. He saw no such man on the train.

The despatch stated that "Conductor Andrews said today that he saw the man in question and the description he gave tallies exactly with that of Mr. Kinsley. Later he was shown a picture of Mr. Kinsley and said it was the same man. He was helped off here by E. A. Brodie of 38 South Winslow avenue, Burlington. Major Kinsley was at the station, however, and did not see the man nor can any trace of him be found. Conductor Andrews states, however, that the man did not leave the train until everybody else had got off."

WAS NOT KINSLEY

If the Wealthy Rutland Man Is Not Found Soon, the Woods Will Be Searched.

Rutland, Nov. 23.—It was learned today that there were only three passengers on the train, on which H. B. Kinsley, the missing man, was said to have come to Rutland. One of the men who got off here was the same size as Kinsley. He went to the Banquet house in this city, but he was not Kinsley. One or two minor clues of the whereabouts of Kinsley the day he disappeared were discovered today but were of no great value. A force of men is still searching New York. It is probable that a searching party will search the woods in this vicinity if he is not located in a few days.

Took Train Out of New York.

New York, Nov. 22.—Henry Baxter Kinsley of Rutland, Vt., who disappeared a week ago and for news of whom a reward of $500 has been offered, has been traced beyond the Grand Central depot, where he was last seen, through the effort of Alexander T. Mason, his attorney. Mr. Mason has found that Kinsley took the 12 10 a. m. train Sunday last for Albany and Rutland but it is believed he left the train somewhere between Albany and Burlington, having been taken ill. The search will be continued in hotels and hospitals of Rutland and all the places between Albany and Burlington.

The usual Thanksgiving service of our Congregational church will be held on Wednesday evening instead of Thursday. The pastor will hold his services in Orange on Thursday.

The greatest talk about town is about the Bremen's masquerade ball to be held on Wednesday evening. The music provided will be perfect for dancing and indeed every possible arrangement has been made to ensure the pleasure of those who attend.

On Saturday evening the concert given by the L. T. L. was very successful. The program consisted of music and recitations and a farce. The help from the Spaulding school added much to the interest of the evening. Special mention might be made of the work of little Phyllis McDonald, which brought down the house.

BIGGEST ATTENDANCE OF FAIR.

Armory Hall Was Much Too Small for the Crowd.

Armory hall was much too small to conveniently hold the large crowd attracted there Saturday evening by St. Monica's fair, which is proving a great success. A pleasing programme was given which consisted of a vocal solo by William Strong, a violin solo by James Riffley and a woodman's drill by Miss Gladys Gravelin and Miss Frances Burke. The drill was very nicely done and was one of the prettiest things which the young folks have given thus far during the fair.

PREACHED ON 82d BIRTHDAYRev. J. A. Sherburne of
This City.

AT METHODIST CHURCH

His First Ministry at West Brattleboro
57 Years Ago—Now Retired
From Active Work.

Venerable in years, his head frosted with age, yet with a figure still erect, Rev. J. A. Sherburne stood in the pulpit of the Hadding Methodist church yesterday morning and preached a sermon to a large audience on the occasion of his 82nd birthday. It is not given to most men to reach that age, much less to preach a sermon with the earnestness and conviction that he showed yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Sherburne retired from active ministry several years ago, but he occasionally responds to calls to officiate in pulpits in this city and the surrounding towns. It was particularly fitting that he should have preached from the Methodist pulpit yesterday, to the people over whom he had been pastor so long. His active ministry covers a period of 57 years. His first charge was at West Brattleboro where he was pastor 57 years ago. He was pastor of the local Methodist church until ten years ago when his advancing years caused him to lay down the active duties as leader of the church. During the intervening years he has acted as counselor for the society in many ways.

In preface his sermon yesterday morning the Rev. Mr. Sherburne said that the newspapers are not always infallible as they announced his age as 81 when it should have been 82. He said that the congregation of the church should not find fault with the pastor, Rev. R. F. Lowe, "for my being in the pulpit today. I felt that I wanted to speak to you and be kindly, or unkindly, granted my request. I want to express my gratitude to God for the time He has permitted me to live; His goodness and mercy follow me; He does not forsake me in my advancing years; He is the precious staff on which I lean."

The speaker took as his subject, "The first thing to do," and his text was from Matthew 6:33, being "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all things else shall be added unto you." He preached a strong sermon entirely without notes, and was closely followed by his audience. After the sermon a large number crowded around him to extend their congratulations.

When about a year old her parents moved to Burlington and this city was her residence until her marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Ainsworth lived in Barre, Waitsfield and Middlesex, in the latter place 19 years, where Mr. Ainsworth was a very successful miller. About 20 years ago they moved to Burlington. Mrs. Ainsworth died about five years ago. Mrs. Ainsworth is survived by three sisters, Mary M. Hendee of Pittsford, Angeline D. and Lucy Edgcomb of this city; and two brothers, George of Boston and William of Burlington.

They Want Trembly Released.

Montpelier, Nov. 22.—Efforts are being made by the friends of Stephen Trembly of Northfield to secure his release from county jail. Trembly was tried in September for a felonious assault alleged to have been committed at Northfield last June. The jury disagreed and Trembly was remanded to jail under bail of $1,000 for trial at the March term. His friends are now hopeful of raising this bail. Trembly is the husband of the woman who was murdered last week at South Northfield by a duelist Martin, who is still at large.
